

HURRICANE PREPAREDNESS SEMINAR ANNOUNCED

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Tom Morr, Thomas.morr@outlook.com

MARCO ISLAND, FLORIDA (April 22, 2019) - Hurricane season is just around the corner. Now is the time to prepare. America's Boating Club - Marco Island today announced that a Seminar on Hurricane Preparedness will be held on May 9, 2019 from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. at the Club's Learning Center at 1114 Collier Boulevard on Marco Island. Marco Island boaters are invited to register for this important Seminar.

The Seminar will be taught by Past Club Commander Rhonda Gloodt and America's Boating Club District 22 Commander Ted Reiss. The Seminar will examine the components of a hurricane - wind, surge and rain - and how to protect your vessel from a hurricane's damaging effects. It will cover all storage options from trailer, land, slips/marinas, mooring/anchoring, davits and lifts as well as removal from the area.

"With Hurricane season fast approaching, we urge Marco area boat owners to take advantage of this chance to learn about ways to prepare for storms and to protect their vessel from damage," said Thomas G. Morr, Commander of America's Boating Club – Marco Island.

To register for the Hurricane Preparedness Seminar, contact First Lieutenant John Maciolek, at either jlmaciolek@live.com or 732-496-4595 or Lieutenant Commander Tom Ryan at tomryan@att.net or 908/432-8767.

The cost of the Seminar and materials is $40.00 and the course is offered to all members of the Club and the boating public. Space is limited. Advanced registration is required.
